

Alpha W

In their fiery exchanges, love and dominance intertwined in a complex dance between the man and woman. Each vied for control, not with fists or harsh words, but with gestures of passion and tenderness. Their love was a battlefield where they fought not to defeat each other, but to find harmony in their shared dominance, a balance where neither was truly in control but both were deeply connected in their struggle for dominance through love.

Sold

Alpha M

In their fiery exchanges, love and dominance intertwined in a complex dance between the man and woman. Each vied for control, not with fists or harsh words, but with gestures of passion and tenderness. Their love was a battlefield where they fought not to defeat each other, but to find harmony in their shared dominance, a balance where neither was truly in control but both were deeply connected in their struggle for dominance through love.

Sold

Sovereign

the female form is portrayed with a subtle yet profound connection to the symbolism of the triangle. The sculpture captures the essence of femininity, embodying the three-fold symbolism often associated with the triangle: the maiden, the mother, and the crone.

$112,000

Nymph

The naked truth of man and woman lies not in their physical forms, but in the raw honesty of their emotions, desires, and vulnerabilities. Stripped of societal masks, they stand before each other, baring their souls in search of understanding and acceptance. In this vulnerability, they find strength, for in their truest selves, they discover the beauty and complexity of their shared humanity.

$55,000

Adonis

The naked truth of man and woman lies not in their physical forms, but in the raw honesty of their emotions, desires, and vulnerabilities. Stripped of societal masks, they stand before each other, baring their souls in search of understanding and acceptance. In this vulnerability, they find strength, for in their truest selves, they discover the beauty and complexity of their shared humanity.

$55,000

Venus

This sculpture is a tribute to the power of inner peace and fulfillment, reminding viewers of the importance of nurturing their souls and seeking fulfillment beyond material desires.

$340,000

Aurora

In the beginning, when the world was still young, the Creator fashioned a being of unparalleled beauty and grace. This being was woman, a vessel of love and compassion, imbued with the power to nurture and heal. With gentle hands, she wove the threads of love into the fabric of existence, creating bonds that would withstand the tests of time. Through her, the Creator spread love across the universe

$118,000

Eve

Mistake in nature or default in creatin?

$180,000

Prayer Intercourse

In the synchronized moment of ecstasy, two souls transcend the physical, experiencing a divine connection that transcends the boundaries of the earthly realm. In the shared orgasm, there is a sacred union, a merging of energies that mirrors the harmony of the universe. It is a moment of pure, unadulterated bliss, where time stands still, and the beauty of creation is revealed in its most intimate form.

$500,000

Pearl

She moves with an effortless grace, unaware of the desire she stirs in those around her. Her every gesture, a subtle invitation; her smile, a magnetic force drawing others closer. She gives without knowing, her presence a gift of allure and mystery that captivates all who encounter her.

$110,000

Shadow Guardian

In the shadows of the bustling city, there exists a character unlike any other, a shy, yet fiercely protective soul. This character, with a heart as tender as it is brave, prefers to blend into the background, unnoticed by most. Despite their timid nature, when a friend or loved one is in need, this character emerges from their shell with unwavering determination and a quiet strength. Like a gentle guardian angel, they watch over those they care for, offering silent support and protection from afar. Though their actions may go unseen, their impact is profound, leaving a trail of comfort and safety in their wake.

Sold